The Influence of Neurobiological Factors on Responsiveness to a Preventive Intervention for Substance Use (fall 2016 – summer 2021)

Multiple PIs: Glenn, A., McKinney, C.; Co-PIs: Lochman, J., Powell, N., McDonough, I.
Source: National Institute on Drug Abuse; Amount: $1,640,718; Result: Unfunded

The proposed study will investigate the neurobiological factors that affect responses to a preventive intervention for substance use. This study provides an opportunity to gain information about why some youth benefit from interventions whereas others do not. Such knowledge is important for therapeutic success, effective resource management, and personalization of interventions. Given that individual differences in brain functioning likely affect individual differences in intervention efficacy, intervention program efficacy may be considerably improved if the intervention programs are tailored with respect to individual differences in children's neurobiological characteristics.

The Role of Social Media on Underage Drinking (fall 2015 – summer 2017)

PI (55%): Robertson, A.; Co-PIs: Hood, K. (35%), McKinney, C. (10%)

Source: National Institutes of Health; Amount: $335,965; Result: Unfunded

Statistician for a project examining the relationship between social media and alcohol use, recruitment methods, scale validation for measurement of social media use, and intervention effectiveness on alcohol-related social media use.

Multidisciplinary Treatment for Veterans in a Rural Community (spring 2014 – fall 2016)
 PI (50%): McRae, K.; Co-PIs (12.5% each): Jensen-Crawford, L., Cirlot-New, L., McKinney, C., & Cadenhead, R.

Source: Veteran Affairs; Amount: $166,500; Result: Funded

Managed the tele-mental health component of multidisciplinary treatment provided to veterans referred by the Jackson, MS Veteran Affairs.

Social Skills Acquisition for Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders Using Animated Video Modeling (fall 2013 - present)

Faculty Collaborators: Reisener, C. (PI), Gadke, D., Stratton, K., Cirlot-New, J., McKinney, C.

Source: Office of Research and Economic Development, Mississippi State University; Amount: $2,000; Result: Funded

Implemented and analyzed the effects of animated video modeling to teach social skills to children with autism spectrum disorders.

Applied Behavioral Analysis in the Classroom Setting (fall 2013 - present)

Faculty Collaborators: Justice, C. (PI), Reisener, C. Gadke, D., Stratton, K., Cirlot-New, J., McKinney, C.

Source: Office of Research and Economic Development, Mississippi State University; Amount: $2,000; Result: Funded

Implement and analyzed the effects of training teachers in the use of applied behavioral analysis.

Predictors of Treatment Outcome in Aggressive Youth (fall 2013 – fall 2015)

Co-PIs (50% each): Glenn, A., McKinney, C.

Source: University of Alabama; Amount: $14,580; Result: Funded

Conducted a pilot study using fMRI to assess how approach bias in 8th grade students impacted the effectiveness of an empirically supported treatment.

PBIS for Alternative-School Upstanders That Are Safe & Engaged (PAUSE) (summer 2014)

Co-PIs (25% each): Stratton, K., Gadke, D., Oliveros, A., & McKinney, C.

Source: National Institute of Justice; Amount: $2,996,416; Result: Unfunded

Developed, implemented, and evaluated the effects of a school-wide intervention intended to promote school safety across three alternative schools in northeast Mississippi.

SS/HS State Program Application for the State of Mississippi (summer 2013)

Co-PIs (33% each): Winer, S., Nadorff, M., & McKinney, C.

Source: SAMHSA; Amount: $851,850.49; Result: Unfunded

This project was intended to increase prosocial behavior, reduce delinquency and substance use, and increase access to mental health services to K-12 students and parents across three counties in Mississippi.

Developing a Robotic Application for Bullying Intervention (spring 2013)

Team Leader: Megan Stubbs; Primary Advisor: Cindy Bethel, Ph.D.

Source: Bagley College of Engineering, Mississippi State University; Amount: $9914; Result: Funded

Work-group consultant in the development and completion of a study designed to evaluate the effects of robot-assisted interviewing for children who are bullied.

Promoting Prosocial Behavior with Integrity Time: Curriculum Intervention and its Impact on Behavioral, Social, and Academic Outcomes in Elementary School (summer 2012)

PI (90%): McKinney, C.; Co-PI: Darling, L. (10%)

Clinical Experience

Clinic Director (spring 2012 - fall 2014, fall 2016 - present)

Direct the clinical psychology program's training clinic at Mississippi State University. Duties include the following:

- 1) Develop, maintain, enforce, and provide training on clinic policy.
- 2) Coordinate with program faculty to determine training needs.

- 3) Create and manage supervision teams; monitor clinic census.
- 4) Network with community partners to increase diversity of clinical experiences.
- 5) Make public relations efforts to increase visibility and referral sources.
- 6) Manage clinic income and expenditures.
- 7) Maintain clinic technology and infrastructure.

Clinical Supervision (fall 2010 - present)

Provide clinical supervision to clinical graduate students providing psychological assessments and therapy to college students, children and families, and other members of the community.

Post-Doctoral Hours (fall 2009 - spring 2011)

Offered clinical training through coursework, conducted clinical research through the Making Sense of Us research clinic and worked with students on research topics, and provided clinical services to children and families and adults under the supervision of Kristine Jacquin, Ph.D., and with the approval of the Mississippi state board of psychology.

Pre-Doctoral Internship: River Oak Center for Children (summer 2007 - summer 2008)

Provided mental health services to diverse children aged 3 to 21 years and their families in office, residential, home, foster care, and community settings. Services provided as follows:

- 1) Comprehensive psychological assessments for residential children to assist in differential diagnoses and treatment planning. Chart records, interviews, and psychological testing results were integrated into a comprehensive report with diagnostic impressions, case conceptualizations, and treatment recommendations. Report findings were presented in client and family team meetings.
- 2) Comprehensive psychoeducational assessments for residential children to assist in determining special education eligibility for learning disability, emotional disability, or other health impairment. Chart records, interviews, and psychoeducational testing results were integrated into a comprehensive report with special education eligibility criteria. Report findings were presented during clients' IEP meetings to families, service providers, and school districts.
- 3) Intake assessments for children referred for mental health services to assist in determining diagnoses and treatment plans. Caregivers and service providers were interviewed about the presenting problem and relevant background information to determine medical necessity. Clients' histories, strengths, and risks were summarized while considering cultural and environmental factors contributing to the presenting problem. DSM-IV-TR five axes diagnoses and observable, measurable goals were made.
- 4) Therapeutic services for children to work towards the goals developed in the intake assessment. Services under this category included client and family engagement, individual therapy for clients (i.e., cognitive behavioral therapy, play therapy), family therapy, life skills training, and connecting families with community resources.
- 5) Psychological consultations involving the scoring and interpretation of assessment results collected by other clinicians. Findings were integrated into psychological consultations and discussed with the referring clinicians to determine initial diagnostic impressions and treatment recommendations.

Externship: Orange County Corrections Department (fall 2006 - spring 2007)

Conducted mental health evaluations and sick calls for arrestees and inmates under the supervision of Leonard Branch, Ph.D. Interventions included initial mental health screenings for arrestees suspected of having mental health problems and following up with inmates to ensure safety, monitor symptoms, and assess progress. Also participated in the implementation and evaluation of special needs programs for inmates with a mental illness and research regarding the assessment and prediction of risk in juvenile offenders.

Externship: Florida Hospital Rehabilitation Unit and Consultation (fall 2005 - spring 2006)
Conducted neuropsychological assessments and treatment on patients rehabilitating from medical trauma under the supervision of Gordon Horn, Ph.D. Interventions included safety precautions, quality of life issues, discharge planning, and patient adjustment to hospital settings and new disabilities. Interpersonal process was emphasized during interventions and supervision. Also participated in research conducted by the hospital.

Practicum, Community Counseling Clinic (spring 2005)
Conducted interpersonal process therapy under the supervision of Stacey Dunn, Ph.D.

Practicum, Community Counseling Clinic (fall 2005)
Conducted interpersonal process and cognitive behavioral therapy under the supervision of Gordon Horn, Ph.D.

Practicum, Community Counseling Clinic (summer 2005)
Conducted individual and group therapy with children, parent management training, and family therapy under the supervision of Kimberly Renk, Ph.D.

Supervision Seminar (spring 2005)
Supervised peers in their clinical work under the supervision of Mark Rapport, Ph.D.

Practicum, Community Counseling Clinic (spring 2005)
Conducted cognitive behavioral therapy under the supervision of Amie Grills, Ph.D.

Externship: Lakeside Alternatives (summer 2004 - summer 2005)
Conducted assessments, individual therapy, and group therapy for outpatient and inpatient clients at Lakeside Alternatives. Worked with a diverse population of clients presenting with symptoms of anxiety, mood, psychotic, substance, dissociative, childhood, and other disorders.

Practicum, Community Counseling Clinic (fall 2003 - summer 2004)
Performed intakes, assessments, and therapy with children and their parents under the supervision of Mark Rapport, Ph.D., and Kimberly Renk, Ph.D.
